

CLINTONIA

'64

Dedication

In acknowledgement of her fine service, we of the 1964 Cintonia staff are proud and honored to dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Roberta Helm.

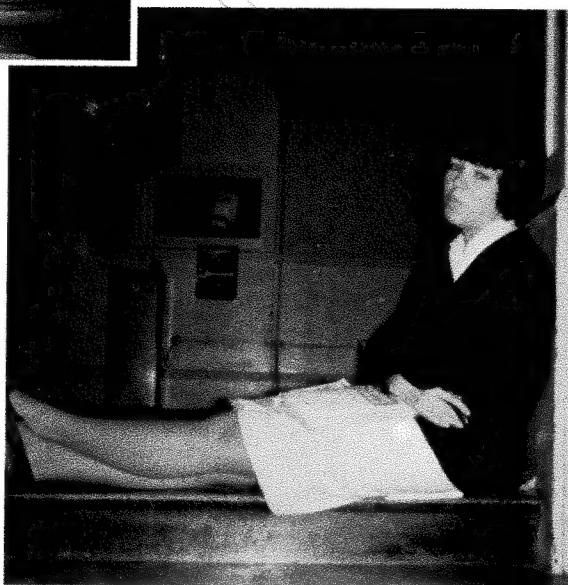

Before joining the faculty of CCHS, Mrs. Helm was initiated into the teaching profession at Findlay. In 1961, she returned to the teaching profession as a substitute teacher; and the next year she graciously accepted her present post.

In addition to the time-consuming jobs of Attendance Officer and Dean of Girls, Mrs. Helm also acts in the capacity of sponsor of both Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleading squads.

Mary,

To a swell gal that I've known for a long, long time. You a sweet gal that's lot's of fun. Stay the way you are, and
you'll be sure to go far.
Remember all of the fun we've had and may God bless & keep.

Friends,

Susan

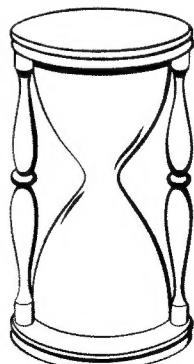

3:40 p.m.

In the course of the school calendar the magic of transformation settles itself over the bustling student body. The stumbling, awkward, and equally lost freshman soon begins to feel "high school," taste "high school," and become a functioning part of the high strung unit. The sophomore rests uneasily in the semi-sureness of this commotion. He never knows where, exactly, he is going, or why, but you must admit, it's better than being one of those "tangled" freshmen. The junior steps a little higher, walks a little straighter, and yells a little louder. They whip their way through the Junior play, wrap themselves in the Prom, find delight in their new rings, and just generally wander through the final happiness of being an upperclassman. The seniors fly through their reigning year of superiority with the new found excitement of being the elder, the learned, and the highest attainable classman. With feet securely planted in life, they go forth into the world of ACT tests, magazine sales, admissions boards, class night, McBeth, and ultimate graduation, while following behind them lurks the promise of desire, college, dormitory life, fraternities, and the awful thought of being a freshman again.

Time ticks away its allotted self on each one as an individual. It is there to slip past when the most important thing is a heated discussion over lunch, the forth-coming exam, the madness of a winning team, the excitement of the dance, and the constant, sometimes irrelevant but always most important chatter of the "absolutely hysterical happenings" as the day flows past.

Time passes on through the great and the small, the defeated and the spoils of the winners, the joy and the sadness; all these whether they be large as a capacity crowded gym or small as the empty sound of footsteps in a lonely marble hall.

Time is something that precedes us, will follow us, will test us, will live with us. Time must be learned, watched, and even by the wisest, often wasted; but time is time, and man is man; but time will never leave us.

Mr. Richmond Is the Co-ordinating Link

Between Student and Teacher

In the course of a day, Mr. Richmond contributes his vast span of knowledge and experience to the recurrent problems of everyday school life. In spite of his hectic work schedule, he must attend various extracurricular functions in order to bring to the student and the teacher the best possible administration and guidance. Both teacher and student benefit from his personal concern for the ultimate aims of education.

Vacancy in Paradise

On Friday, November 22, 1963, the Junior Class presented "VACANCY IN PARADISE," a three act play written by John Kirkpatrick. The play deals with a group of run-down cabins called Paradise Glen. Wally stops to make a phone call and stays to help the owner and her pretty daughter put the place back on its feet. He uses romance to promote the resort and soon finds himself in quite a predicament. He promotes a romance between the daughter of the banker, who owns the mortgage, and a hobo.

Other outstanding characters include two Boston librarians, a sailor who has too many girls, his fiancee who tries to wreck the place, an outspoken trained nurse, a hired man who isn't a hired man, and Claire, the scatter-brained owner who surprises everyone by turning out to be an old flame of the banker.

Basketball

The Clinton Maroons' 1963-1964 season was anything but a success as far as the record is concerned.

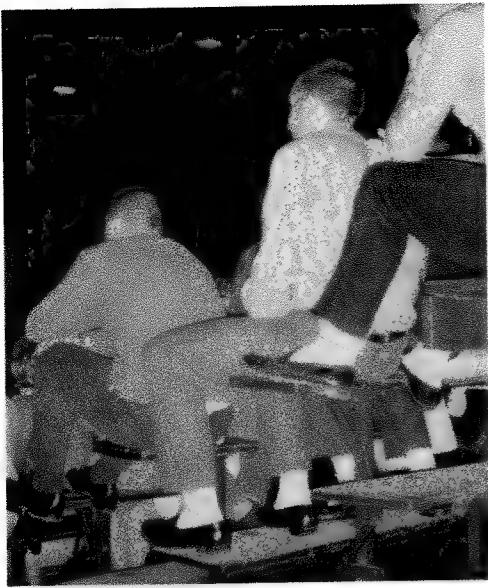

The Maroons opened the season at Bloomington where they absorbed a 73-48 defeat. Jim Helm had one of his finest games of the season as he scored 28 points. Successive defeats followed at the hands of Washington, Trinity and Pontiac. In December, the Maroons traveled to Macomb where they participated in a holiday tournament.

In the first game following the tournament, the Maroons bowed to Springfield Griffin 87-53. The Maroons scored their first victory of the season on January 14 as they defeated Normal on a last-second basket by Steve Day.

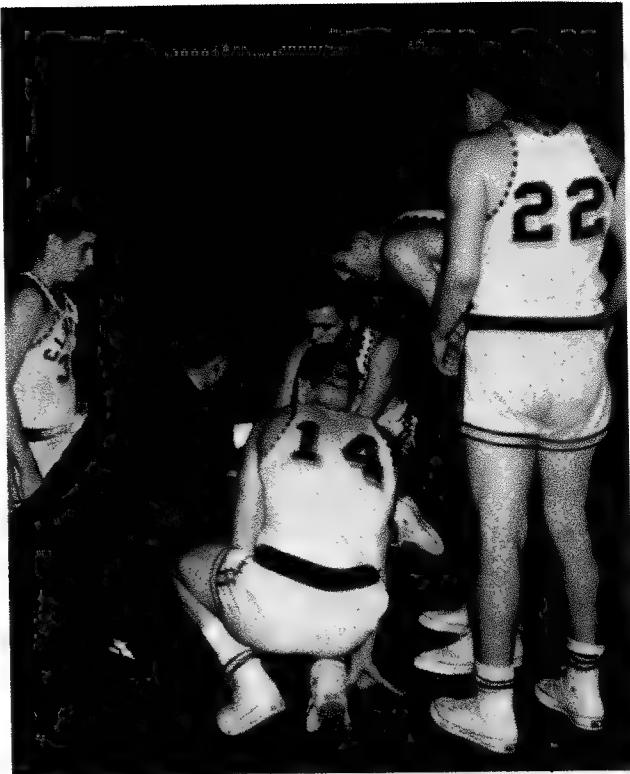

Following the Maroons' first victory, they were defeated by Decatur Eisenhower, 70-53. On January 20, the team participated in the Shelbyville Invitational Tournament. They returned home on January 28 and were soundly defeated by Trinity 93-65. In the following game, the Maroons scored one of the biggest upsets of the season by trouncing U. High, 73-55.

In the last games of the season, the Maroons met defeat against Lincoln, Washington, MacArthur, Lanphier, Normal, U. High and Lakeview.

Coach Wayne Cole's Cross Country team completed a very successful 1963 season by compiling a 9-1 record. Highlights of the season included a new school record over the 1.9 mile course at the 4-H grounds by Phil Rybott. His time was 1:31. Rybott also won a tenth place medal at the Paris Invitational. The Cross Country team itself took third place in the district meet at Lincoln. Phil Rybott finished fourth in the district to qualify for the state meet where he finished eighty-fourth out of 198 runners.

Phil is the first one to represent Clinton in the state cross country meet.

A New Conception of Time

Jessie

For the freshman a new conception of time begins: The fifty-six minutes of hard study, the fifty-six minutes of vigorous exercise afforded by P. E., the four minutes of mad rush from one end of the building to the other only to be late, the half hour to gobble some food and the terrible drag of the last fifty-six minutes before the timer sets them free.

OFFICERS: Roger Kemp, President; Keith Koons, Vice President; Diane Jeschawitz, Secretary; Diane Hickman, Treasurer.

JUNIORS

Only One More to Go

Clinton's 1964 Juniors entertained a prosperous and eventful year, leaving behind a memory that will linger long after the long dragging semesters and the bustling crowds of C.C.H.S. are long forgotten. In October the Juniors passed a most critical judgement as they marched past in revue to select their class rings. In November the hustle and bustle, worry and wear of presenting the play started, only to end in a spectacular and glorious "Paradise" of hilarity as they presented to the public the achievements of their long hours of hard work and constant study. For this effort they reaped a reward of over $500, with which they started to work in planning, carrying out, and adding the touches to the biggest event of the Junior year, the PROM. With high hopes and eager minds the Juniors pass on into summer, only to return for the even more glorious year as a senior

Our Time Has Come

Biology can be fun?

Some people never work!

We have seen many things in this, our last and final year of high school. We've seen the last football and basketball games in which our boys played - played until they could drop from exhaustion and we've been proud of them. We've cheered in our last ball games until our throats were raw, and we stood to give honor to our flag and school for the last time when we've been all together. And this year has seen our first magazine drive, and our first chili supper. We've gone to our last school dances of our high school career and we've put on the best play we could possibly produce. Each of us have had friendships grow and ripen, some to die some and some to last forever. Class night will always be remembered by all of us, for we never had so much fun in our lives, and we hope you enjoyed it, too. Commencement to some that word brings tears, to others joy but to most of us, both. Each of us have shed a few premature tears, because after this night, Clinton Community High School will no longer be ours. Each of us will go our separate ways, some to college, others to jobs, and still others to marriage. After this night we are no longer Seniors; you juniors will be, and after you, others. After you leave our high school, each of you will realize how fortunate you were in going to CCHS.

Senior Play

"The Absent-Minded Professor" a three-act comedy, was given by the seniors of C.C.H.S. on April 1, 1964. Professor Allen, a typical absent-minded professor in his early thirties comes into conflict with a pair of notorious criminals, Snatch Bazonie and Z. Templeton Barr, who have stolen the statue of Niobe from the art gallery. The professor and his wife have come to their cottage to prepare for the professor's birthday party. Unknown to them, the criminals have hidden the famous statue in their cottage. A lot of humor is added to the play as the professor continually faints whenever someone says the word "Kill." In the ensuing acts, the professor unwittingly captures the criminals and makes of himself, a hero.

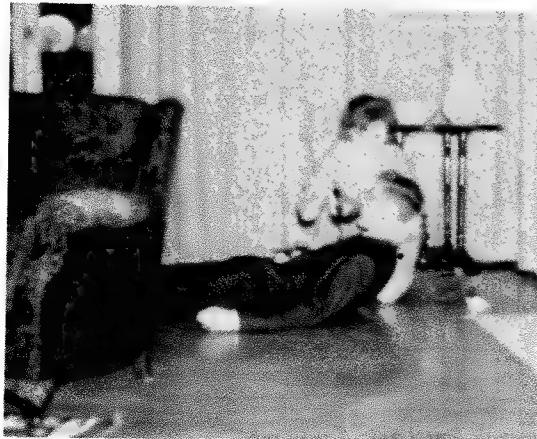

"Don't you wish you had a vest like that one, Snatch?"

"For heaven's sake, put that thing away!
It could be loaded!"

"Ivan, dear! Speak to me, Ivan."

"See, my group had 24% fewer cavities!"
